DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-7, 21-24 and 31-44 are currently pending in the instant application. Claims 1, 3-7, 21-24, 33, 35 and 39 are rejected, claims 2, 31, 32 and 41-44 are objected and claims 34 and 36-38 are allowed in this Office Action.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 10, 2011 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on January 10, 2011 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement has been considered by the examiner.

I. Response to Arguments/Remarks

Applicants have not filed any new arguments or amendments in response to the previous Final rejection mailed on July 7, 2010. Thus the pending 103 rejection of claims 1, 3-7, 21-24, 33, 35 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hill, et al. in view of Matsumoto and the objection of claims 2, 31, 32 and 41-44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected based claim have been maintained in this Office Action.

II. Rejection(s)

35 USC § 103 - OBVIOUSNESS REJECTION

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) that forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Graham v. John Deere Co. set forth the factual inquiries necessary to determine obviousness under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a). See Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966). Specifically, the analysis must employ the following factual inquiries:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1, 3-7, 21-24, 33, 35 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hill, et al. in view of Matsumoto. Applicants claim The instant invention claims a process for the preparation of a compound of formula and/or an addition salt of a proton acid, wherein R¹ represents C₁-₈-alkyl or phenyl and R² represents alkyl, cycloalkyl, aryl or aralkyl, each aryl or aralkyl being optionally further substituted with alkyl, alkoxy and/or halogen which process comprises the following steps: a) reacting a mixture comprising: (i) a methyl ketone of formula: CH₃COR¹ wherein R¹ is as defined above, and (ii) a compound of formula: H₂N-R² and/or an addition salt of proton acid, wherein R² is as defined above, and (iii) formaldehyde or a source of formaldehyde selected from the group consisting of formaldehyde in aqueous solution, 1,3,5-trioxane, paraformaldehyde and mixtures thereof, in the presence of a solvent selected from the group consisting of water, aliphatic alcohols, cycloaliphatic alcohols and mixtures thereof and optionally a proton acid to provide a β -keto amine of the formula and/or an addition salt of a proton acid and b) reducing the carbonyl group of β -keto amine to afford a compound of formula I and/or an addition salt of a proton acid wherein the step a) is carried out at a pressure above 1.5 bar.

The Scope and Content of the Prior Art (MPEP §2141.01)

Hill, et al. teaches the following method

wherein a) $(\text{HCHO})_n$, MeNH_2

HCl , EtOH , HCl , reflux; b) H_2O , steam distillation, MeOH ; c) NaBH_4 , 2-propanol/ H_2O ; d) MeOH , HCl ; $\text{EtOH}/\text{Me}_2\text{CO}$; R is H or Cl.

The secondary reference, Matsumoto, teaches the use of high pressure in the Mannich reaction of ketones and esters with dichloromethane and secondary amines. The secondary references teaches various reactions such as reacting $\text{PhCOCH}_2\text{CH}_3$ with $(\text{Et})_2\text{NH}$ under high pressure.

The Difference Between the Prior Art and the Claims (MPEP §2141.02)

The difference between the prior art of Hill, et al. and the instant invention is that there is that step a) in the instant application is carried out at a pressure above 1.5 whereas in the prior art primary reference the first step is carried out under reflux and then steam distillation.

Prima Facie Obviousness-The Rational and Motivation (MPEP §2142-2413)

In In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955), it was well established that merely modifying the process conditions such as temperature and concentration is not a patentable modification absent a showing of criticality. For example, it is obvious to modify the preparation of a compound of comprising step a) and step b) as disclosed in claim 1 to improve the product yield since a similar reaction using different conditions in step 1 was already taught by the primary reference and the use of high pressure in the Mannich reaction was taught by the secondary reference. Specifically, changing the reaction conditions of step 1 as seen in the claim 1 absent unexpected results is deemed obvious over the Hill, et al. reference in view of the secondary reference Matsumoto. The motivation for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the first step of the prior art's reaction by using high pressure would be to develop a more efficient method for preparing amino alcohols. Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to attempt to improve the known process by modifying the reaction conditions (i.e. carrying out the first step under pressure) to increase the product yield when the secondary reference teaches the Mannich reaction of ketones and esters with dichloromethane and secondary amines under high pressure. A strong prima facie obviousness has been established.

III. Objection(s)

Dependent Claim Objections

Dependent Claims 2, 31, 32 and 41-44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected based claim. To overcome this objection, Applicant should rewrite said claims in an independent form and include the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claim.
